Contents
Social Process in Hawai’i
Volume 39, 1999

No Marion Kelly / Of Marion Kelly
Davianna Pōmaika‘i McGregor

Foreword

Preface

Introduction to the Ethnic Studies Story: The Political Economic Environment
Ibrahim G. Aoudé

The Rise of Ethnic Studies at the University of Hawai‘i: Anti-War, Student and Early Community Struggles
John Witeck

Miriam Sharma

Huli: Community Struggles and Ethnic Studies
Soli Kihei Niheu

The Struggles of the Waiāhole-Waikâne Community Association
Bob Nakata

Race Relations and the Political Economy in Hawai‘i
Ah Quon McElrath

Honoring Racism: The Professional Life and Reputation of Stanley D. Porteus
David E. Stannard

Frank Marshall Davis in Hawai‘i: Outsider Journalist Looking In Kathryn Waddell Takara

Hawai‘i’s Japanese Americans and National Public Representation
Franklin Odo

Indigenous Rights, Praxis, and Social Institutions
Ulla Hasager

Research in Action: Ethnohistory of Puna
Davianna Pōmaika‘i McGregor

Indigenous Management Models and Protection of the Ahupua‘a
Luciano Minerbi

Against Extinction: A Legacy of Native Hawaiian Resistance Literature
D. Māhealani Dudoit
The State Statistician (a short story)
Rodney Morales

Ethnic Identity, Identity Politics and the Trouble One Will Have in Constituting an Identity
Li’ana M. Petranek

Notes on Globalization as Salvation: The Myth That Never Dies
Noel Jacob Kent

Hawai’i: Strategic Considerations for Social Struggles
Ibrahim G. Aoudé

Appendices

A: Ethnic Studies Then and Now

B.1: Testimony in Support of Removing Porteus’ Name from the Building at 2424 Maile Way, by the Department of Ethnic Studies

B.2: Testimony at the Hearing on the Name Change for the Social Sciences Building, by Marion Kelly

Contributors