

Chris Hebb
Geog 102
Dr. Kapp
October 26, 2008

Honua Ola Service Project

On October 19, 2008 the geography and environmental science club pulled Mullen up on the NOAA research station access road on the side of Mauna Loa. Mullen is an invasive species that was introduced here along with the sheep and goats back when the Europeans came here to the island. We were trying to eradicate the Mullen in certain areas to postpone its spread into more of the road sides further up the access roads

