

*What tourists don't see...
What the government won't say...
Is the truth about Hawai'i.*

NOHO HEWA

A DOCUMENTARY FILM

by Anne Keala Kelly

Noho Hewa: The Wrongful Occupation of Hawai'i is a documentary film that began as a project about resistance to the post 9-11 military expansion happening in Hawai'i, the largest expansion since WWII.

This 75 minute film connects the military occupation of Hawai'i to the fraudulence of statehood, the Akaka Bill, homelessness, desecration and more.

please join us for one of 3 screenings with the film's producer/director Keala Kelly on

Monday, October 20, 2008
at UH-Hilo Campus

10:00am CC301
2:00pm UCB127
7:00pm UCB100

Noho Hewa explains how the US came to occupy Hawai'i, and how the military and other industries, such as real estate and tourism, are economically dispossessing Hawaiians of their land, desecrating sacred sites, and destroying the environment.

The film features interviews with Haunani-Kay Trask, Kaleikoa Ka'eo, Noenoe Silva, Keanu Sai, J. Kehaulani Kauanui and others

all showings are FREE and open to the public

sponsored by: UH-Hilo Dept of History, Kipuka Native Hawaiian Student Center, Keaomālamala