

Streaming Videos at Hamilton Library

<https://manoa.hawaii.edu/library>

Overview

There are three primary sources for streaming video available through Hamilton Library: Films on Demand, Kanopy, Swank, and Ethnographic Video Online.

Each resource allows you to:

- search for videos
- watch videos
- find links to share or embed videos

All three resources are accessed through the Database link on the main library page.

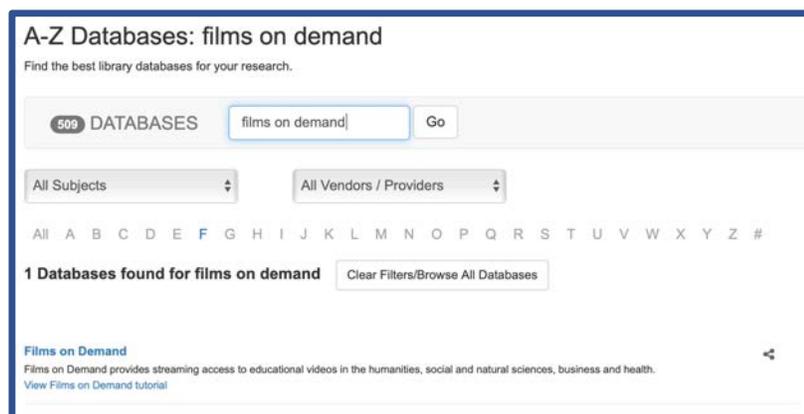

Then, search for the resource you are looking for.

In this case, search for:

- "Films on Demand"
- "Kanopy"
- "Swank"

Then, click on the link.

You will have to log in.

Other Sources for Streaming Videos

Library of Congress — <https://loc.gov/film-and-videos/collections/>

'Ulu'ulu — <http://uluulu.hawaii.edu>

Open Culture — <http://www.openculture.com/freemoviesonline>

Ethnographic Video Online, Volume III: Indigenous Voices — access via the Database link on the main library page

Films on Demand

a tutorial is available at: <https://manoa.hawaii.edu/library/learning/films-on-demand/>

An Advance Search is available, but not very robust.

Browse

Create an account (under Your Profile). This is separate from your UH account.

The Results Page

Video Source

Subjects

Filters

i.e. titles & segments

The Record

Play the video

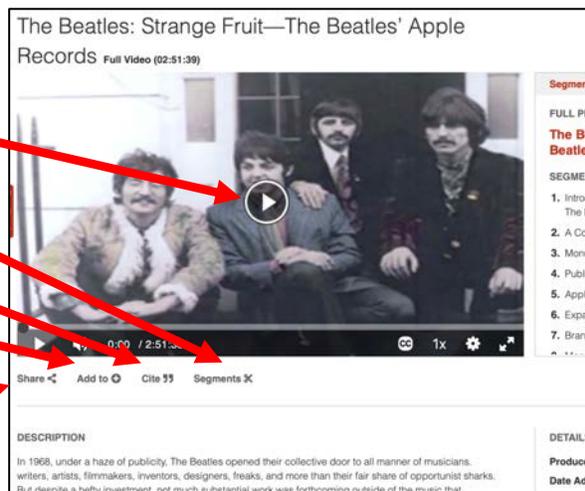

Create a segment

Cite (or Zotero)

Add to a playlist

Share

email or embedded

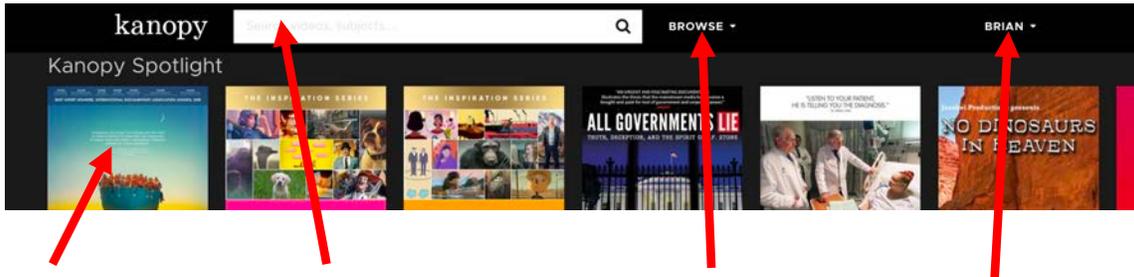

August, 2020

Kanopy

Note that Kanopy is also available at the Hawaii State Public Library (www.librarieshawaii.org)

Log in to UH Hawaii account.

Click on Title

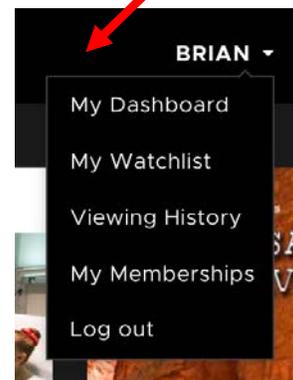

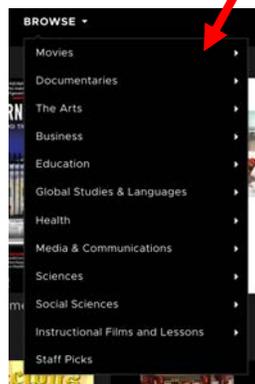

Basic Search

Browse by Category

View your account

Note that Kanopy does not have an Advanced Search feature.

If you hover over a title, you can either watch or add it to your watch list.

Click on a Title ...

Play the movie

Create a Clip/Playlist create the playlist first
add video edit playlist
edit the clip

Share the link

Add to your playlist

View Transcript

Cite

Swank

Swank is a small collection of films that have been rented by Hamilton Library, typically for specific classes and for a single semester or year.

If you are using one of these films, make sure to let us know at <avreserv@hawaii.edu>.

Swank is optimized for Firefox and Chrome.

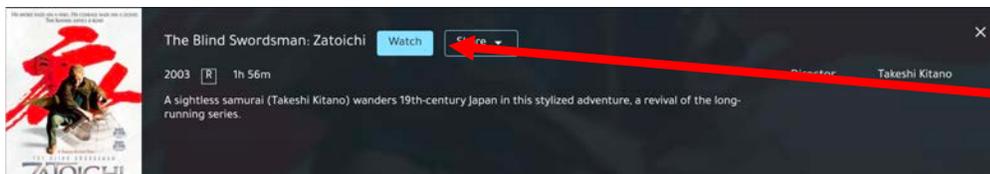

Filter by genre and other features.

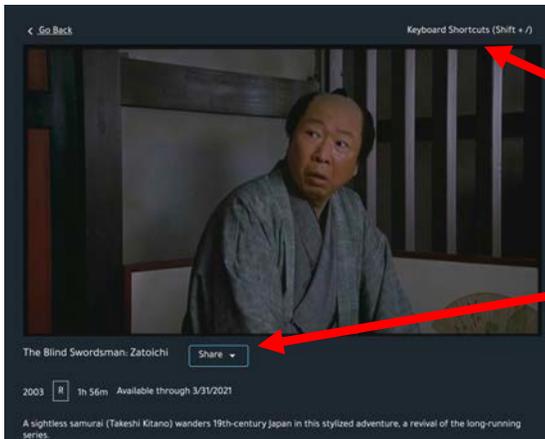

View by category or title (title view allows sorting).

Search by title or person.

Click on the cover to see the video details.

Click on the film's image to access the "Watch" button.

Segmenting is NOT available.

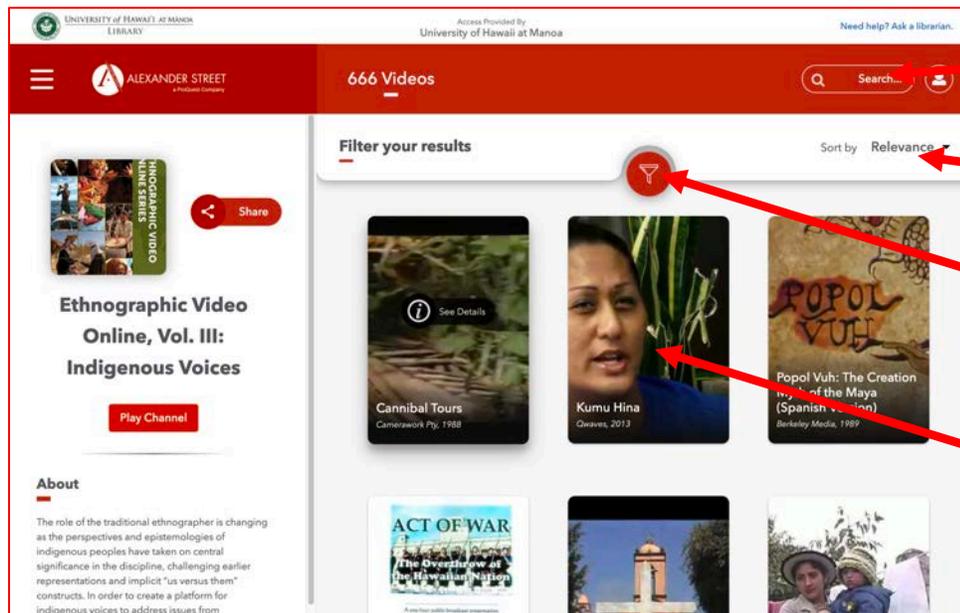

Many keyboard shortcuts are available.

People with the link will still have to log in with their UH usernames and passwords.

To send the link to someone or include it in a Lulima site, "Share" and then "Copy Direct Link".

The "Copy LMS Link" option provides the html code for the link that you can use in the source code.

Ethnographic Video Online Volume III: Indigenous Voices

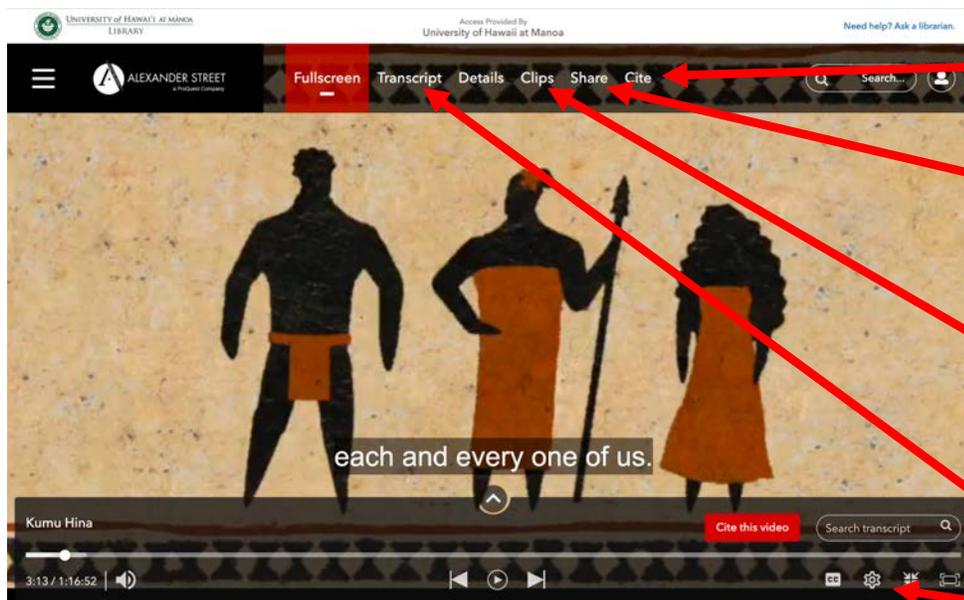

Keyword search.

Sort by relevance, title or date.

select filters such as language, date, subject, and content type.

Click on the cover to see the video details.

Cite the video.

Share the video as permalink or with embed code.

You can create your own clips if you sign up for an account with your UH username.

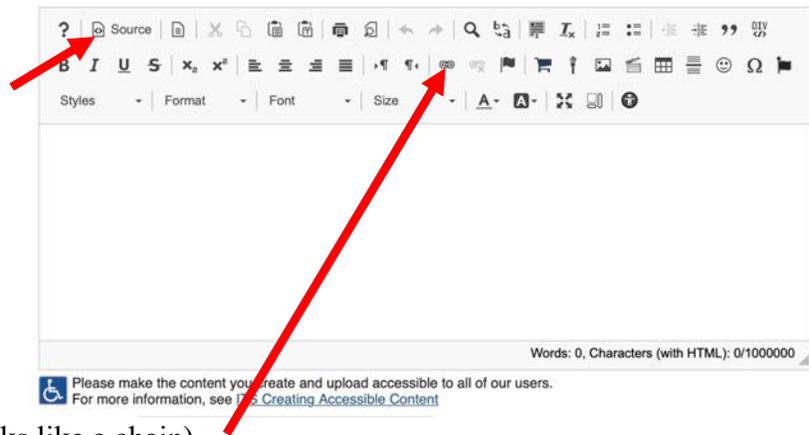

View transcript.

Standard movie controls.

Integrating the URL into Laulima

Most Laulima Tools (using the standard text editor: E-mail, Discussions, and Overview)

To embed the video, click on the "Source" button and paste the html code where you want the embedded link to appear.

To create a link, type the text or insert the image you want the students to click on.

Select the text or image.

Click on the link button (looks like a chain).

Paste the URL

Set the "Target" (optional)

Resources Tool

"Add Web Links" - to create a specific link

"Create HTML page" - to create complicated pages
this can then be added to the "Overview" page

Web Content Tool

creates a link on the left side

Click on "Site Info"

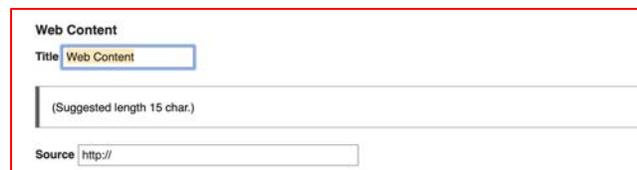

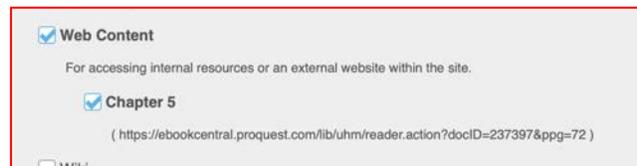

Select "Manage Tools"

Click on the Web Content tool in list

Enter the title (to appear on the left side of the Laulima site)

paste the link in the Web Content box

click "Continue" and confirm

Lessons Tool

"Add Content" and then "Add Text"

Type in the Title (or whatever you want)

Select it and click on the link - provide the URL

You can add instructions

Recommended that you "Open in New Window"