I. Service: Outreach Activities

To strengthen working relations with public and private sector institutions, the K. J. Luke Chair has been continuing his outreach activities through the Asia-Pacific Financial Markets (FIMA) Research Center, for which he serves as Executive Director. Two major conference programs were organized during the academic year 2001-2002: (i) the APEC/UH Special Conference on Corporate Governance in July 16, 2002, in Tokyo, Japan; and (ii) the inaugural PECC Finance Forum Conference on August 12-13, 2002, in Honolulu, Hawaii.¹

The Luke Chair’s policy research work has been continuing to meet the demand from multilateral financial institutions, including the Asian Development Bank Institute, International Monetary Fund, Organization for Economic Co-Operation and Development, and the Pacific Economic Cooperation Council, which is under the umbrella of the Asia-Pacific Economic Cooperation. His outreach activities are listed under the following four categories:

A. Conferences Organized

1. The APEC/UH Special Conference on Corporate Governance, July 16, 2002, Tokyo, Japan

The APEC/UH Special Conference brought together leading scholars in the area of corporate governance to share their research findings relevant to the corporate governance practices in the APEC region. A total of six academic papers on corporate governance issues in Japan, China, Korea, and Thailand were presented at this Special Conference that was organized during the APFA/PACAP/FMA Finance Conference on July 15-17, 2002. The Conference was organized in collaboration with the UH APEC Study Center, Hitotsubashi University of Japan, International University of Japan, Hong Kong University of Science and Technology, Korea Securities Research Institute, and the Pacific-Basin Finance Journal. The Conference was a huge success by attracting more than 100 participants, the biggest number among any special sessions offered at the APFA/PACAP/FMA Finance Conference.

In collaboration with the Korea National Committee for Pacific Economic Cooperation (KOPEC), Chinese Taipei Pacific Economic Cooperation Committee (CTPECC), and the East-West Center, the inaugural PECC Finance Forum Conference was organized on August 12-13, 2002, in Honolulu, Hawaii. The first day was focused on the Scope for Regional Financial Cooperation and the second day was devoted to the Challenges of Regulatory Reforms for Financial Institutions Development.

The conference was attended by 43 delegates representing 15 PECC member countries including: Australia, Brunei, Canada, Chile, China, Chinese Taipei, Hong Kong, Japan, Korea, Malaysia, New Zealand, Peru, Singapore, Thailand, and United States of America. Major multilateral financial institutions also participated in the Conference. They are: Asian Development Bank, Bank for International Settlements, International Monetary Fund, Organization for Economic Co-Operation and Development, and World Bank. The report of the PECC Finance Forum will be submitted to APEC Finance Ministers when they meet in Los Cabos, Mexico, on September 5-6, 2002.

B. Out-Reach Activities within the Academic Community

1. 2002 APFA/PACAP/FMA Finance Conference

The FIMA Research Center was one of co-sponsors of the 2002 APFA/PACAP/FMA Finance Conference held in Tokyo, Japan, on July 15-17, 2002. At the request of the International University of Japan, the organizer of the Conference, the Luke Chair helped Dr. Takato Hiraki, Program Chair of the Conference, in organizing special sessions and fund-raising activities with Japanese financial institutions (Tokyo Stock Exchange, Daiwa Securities Co., Ltd., Toyo Keizai Inc., and Japanese Securities Dealers Association). The Conference was the joint annual meeting of the Asia-Pacific Finance Association (APFA) and the Pacific-Basin Financial Management (PACAP) Society in collaboration with the U.S. Financial Management Association. It was attended by 320 participants from the academia and the securities industry of Asia-Pacific countries, the United States, and Europe.

2 The APEC/UH Special Conference Program is attached to this report as Appendix A.

3 The PECC Finance Forum Conference Program is attached to this report as Appendix B.
Three leading academicians delivered their keynote addresses at this conference: (i) Stephen Brown of New York University (on Japanese mutual fund performance); (ii) Edward Kane of Boston College (on global deposit insurance scheme); and (iii) Jay Ritter of the University of Florida (on behavioral finance). All three papers are scheduled to be published in a special issue of the Pacific-Basin Finance Journal in 2003.

2. The Establishment of the Asian Finance Association

   As a board member of the PACAP Society and the 7-member Working Committee for Consolidation, the Luke Chair spearheaded the establishment of the Asian Finance Association (AsFA) and the dissolution of the PACAP Society to facilitate the consolidation of the Society and the APFA. At the AsFA’s inaugural general membership meeting that was held during the APFA/PACAP/FMA Finance conference, the establishment of AsFA was approved. All members of the AsFA will become subscribers of the Pacific-Basin Finance Journal (PBFJ) and the International Review of Finance. In his capacity of Chief Editor of the PBFJ, the Luke Chair will continue to serve on the AsFA’s Board.

C. The Asian Shadow Financial Regulatory Committee

   The Luke Chair and Professor Benink A. Harald of the Rotterdam School of Management of Erasmus University have been working for the creation of the Asian Financial Regulatory Shadow Committee. Professor Harald was instrumental in creating the Latin American and Japanese counterpart committees. These committees are modeled after the U.S. Shadow Financial Regulatory Committee, which is charged to identify and analyze developing trends and ongoing events that may affect the efficiency and safe operation of sectors of the financial services industry; to explore the spectrum of short- and long-term implications of emerging problems and policy changes; to help develop private, regulatory and legislative responses to problems that hinder efficiency; and to assess and respond to proposed and actual public policy initiatives with respect to the impact on the public interest.4

   The Luke Chair was invited to participate in the Joint Meeting of Shadow Financial Regulatory Committee to be held in Washington, D.C., on October 5-7, 2002. This meeting will be participated by the Shadow Committee members from the U.S., Europe, Latin America, and Japan. As part of his effort of creating the Asian Shadow Committee, the Luke Chair met Professor Mitsuhiro Fukao of

II. Academic Research Activities

As his involvement in the Ph.D. program intensified, the Luke Chair allocated more than 50% of his time for pure academic research work, while guiding seven Ph.D. students from the departments of finance and economics for their research work. His immediate goal is to make the Ph.D. program recognized globally for its research activities focusing on Asian financial markets.

The Shanghai University of Finance and Economics (SUFE) appointed the Luke Chair a non-resident visiting professor of finance for the period from May 2002 to April 2004. A special ceremony was held to mark this occasion with SUFE faculty and students present. Afterward, the Luke Chair delivered a lecture entitled “Long-Term Underperformance of New Issues: Is Earnings Management the Villain?”

The Luke Chair’s academic research work comprises preparation, presentation, and publication of academic papers, and capital market policy research reports. In addition, his academic activities include external refereeing service, supervision of Ph.D. dissertations, and service for academic meetings. His academic activities during the year are listed below:

V. Pacific-Basin Finance Journal

The K. J. Luke Chair serves as Editor of the Pacific-Basin Finance Journal. Published five times a year, the Journal showcases the highest quality in theoretical and empirical research manuscripts on financial markets in the Asia-Pacific region. The following achievements are either forthcoming or were accomplished by the Journal:

1. Issues 9.3, 9.4, 9.5, 10.1, 10.2, 10.3 were published that included a Special Issue from selected papers of the 2001 PACAP/FMA Finance Conference held in Seoul, Korea, in 2001.

2. A Special Issue (Issue 10.4) in commemoration of Dr. Merton H. Miller’s academic contributions to finance and economics is forthcoming. Dr. Miller is a Nobel Laureate in Economics in 1990. He served as an advisory editor of the Journal since 1993 and was actively involved in the study of Asia-Pacific financial markets. This Special Issue focuses on topics closely related to his research areas, including financial derivatives, corporate finance, and market microstructure relating to Asia-Pacific capital markets. Dr. Richard Roll, Allstate Professor of Insurance and Finance, University of California-Los Angeles, serves as the Guest Editor for the Special Issue in memory of Dr. Miller. Dr. Roll succeeded Dr. Miller as advisory editor of the Journal.

3. Two special issues are planned for volume 11. One issue for a special issue which will include keynote addresses, competitive research award papers, and the selected conference papers presented at the 2001 APFA/PACAP/FMA Finance Conference in Tokyo, Japan, in July. Another issue is built on the papers presented at the APEC/UH Special Conference on Corporate Governance.

4. Two students were selected as the recipients of the Pacific-Basin Finance Journal scholarships. They were ranked in the top-two among the Beta Gamma Sigma Finance Area Inductees in November 2001. They are

Outline of
The Master of Science in Finance (MSF) Program

1. Major Focus

The focus of the Master of Science in Finance (MSF) Program is on Asian Finance with special emphasis on financial engineering and financial markets of the Asia-Pacific region.

2. Unique Characteristics of the MSF Program

- The MSF Program reflects the University of Hawaii’s commitment to research and education activities focusing on the Asia-Pacific region and the College of Business’s focus on international business and its desire to strengthen ties with the financial services industry of the U.S. and Asia-Pacific region.

- The University of Hawaii is the only academic institution in the world that offers an MS degree program focusing on Asian Finance.

- The Program is a “specialist” degree program with substantial synergy effects with the University of Hawaii’s Japan-Focused MBA, China-Focused MBA, and Viet Nam-Focused MBA programs.

3. Potential Target Markets

The Program is designed for individuals who wish to pursue a finance career with financial institutions such as: capital market regulatory agencies, stock/futures/commodity exchanges, investment banks, commercial banks, securities companies, mutual funds, bond rating agencies, and other types of financial intermediaries. Since the MSF Program will benefit various organizations in the financial services industry that employs these individuals, the primary target market will be Asian, U.S., and European financial institutions with a strong desire to upgrade their mid-level managers’ knowledge and skills in various finance functions.

4. AACSB Accreditation

Following the American Assembly of Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB) standards for business accreditation, the MSF Program will require 11 courses totaling 30 credit hours: four foundation knowledge-enhancing courses and seven finance area specialization courses.
